

Gemstone Therapy Institute Code of Ethics

The Gemstone Therapy Institute (GTI) Code of Ethics is a living document. That means it will be updated without notice when we find new ways to describe the high standards by which GTI students, interns, and practitioners are expected to conduct themselves. It is the responsibility of GTI students, interns, and practitioners to regularly review this Code of Ethics in order to keep up to date with its contents and to keep this Code of Ethics fresh in their minds.

MY COMMITMENT TO MY CLIENTS

I will:

- Provide the highest quality of care to those who seek my professional services, without discrimination.
- Respect the rights, privacy, and dignity of each and every client.
- Keep my clients' names and identities confidential, and not share who I am presently working with, have worked with (no matter how long ago), or have scheduled to work with in the future. This includes, but is not limited to, celebrities, professional athletes, and
- Accurately inform my clients about the scope and limitations of Diamond and Gemstone Therapy. Be sure they understand it is a complementary modality and not a substitute for conventional medical treatment.
- Obtain and record the informed consent of clients, or their advocates, before providing Diamond and Gemstone Therapy. This consent may be written or verbal.
- Respect my client's right to refuse services, terminate services, or ask me to modify a session regardless of prior consent given.
- Keep accurate records of each client's history and treatment.
- Bill clients accurately and fairly.
- Maintain professional boundaries with my clients. Honor and nurture a client/practitioner relationship based on trust and do nothing that might interfere with that trust, including but not limited to soliciting clients or accepting solicitations for business deals, network marketing programs, or sexual conduct.
- Refrain, under all circumstances, from initiating or engaging in any sexual conduct involving a client, unless a pre-existing relationship exists between myself and the client. In addition, to not engage in sexual contact with a former client unless a period of six months has elapsed since the date that the professional relationship ended.

- Avoid working with clients if I am unable to safely and effectively provide Diamond or Gemstone Therapy due to physical or psychological impairment, or substance abuse. (Or, for example, if I'm not feeling well enough, I would contact a client to ask if we can reschedule an appointment.)
- Explain to my clients that Diamond and Gemstone Therapy are a form of energy-work, and as a GTI student, intern, or practitioner, I am not qualified to make judgments about physical, emotional, and psychological health, and will not prescribe or diagnose. If a client has concerns that are physical, emotional, and/or psychological, I will suggest he or she also sees a licensed health-care provider.
- Honor the trust my clients place upon me to provide in my practice only GTI-approved 7-color-ray Therapy Diamonds and therapeutic-quality gemstones that are strung with their symbiotic gemstones. While I may have other gemstones in my personal pharmacy, I will reserve these for personal use.

MY COMMITMENT TO THE PROFESSION

I will:

- Consistently maintain and improve my proficiency in Diamond Therapy and/or Gemstone Therapy, and strive for professional excellence through regular self-assessment of personal and professional strengths and weaknesses and through continued training.
- Share with GTI the protocols used and results obtained from key Diamond and Gemstone Therapy sessions, in order to add to the knowledge base of the modality, while at the same time safeguarding the confidentiality of all information that could be used to connect this information with a particular client.
- Continue to promote the highest standards of the profession.
- Nurture and support the Diamond and Gemstone Therapy community.
- Keep the GTI Practitioner Training information confidential. Practitioner protocols may be shared only with other qualified GTI interns and practitioners. Advanced practitioner training may be discussed only with other practitioners who qualify for that training.

- Report any changes to GTI regarding my contact information and my ongoing fitness to practice, including but not limited to reporting to GTI any disciplinary action taken by a school or regulatory agency against me, criminal charges, or civil actions that may be relevant to my Diamond Therapy and/or Gemstone Therapy practice or fitness to practice.
- Provide accurate, truthful, and non-misleading information to GTI in connection with any application for student status or certification, or any GTI disciplinary investigation or proceeding.
- Comply with GTI mentoring and examination policies.
- Report to GTI any violations by myself or by my peers of the Code of Ethics and Standards of Practice.

MY COMMITMENT TO THE PUBLIC

I will:

- Represent my qualifications honestly, including education and professional affiliations, training and experience, and certification status, and provide only those services I am qualified to perform.
- Follow the Gemstone Therapy Institute Code of Ethics and all policies, guidelines, and requirements established by the Gemstone Therapy Institute.
- Refrain from any representation that a Diamond or Gemstone Therapy Practitioner Certification implies licensure or a right to practice unless so designated by the laws in the jurisdiction in which I practice.
- Use only the appropriate professional designations for my credentials.
- Advertise only accurate, truthful, non-misleading information and refrain from making public statements on the efficacy of Diamond and Gemstone Therapy that are not supported by the generally accepted experience of the profession.
- Respect the integrity of other forms of health care and medical traditions and seek to develop collaborative relationships to achieve the highest quality of care for individual clients.
- Respect the trademarks and copyrights held by Isabelle Morton, GEMFormulas LLC, and the Gemstone Therapy Institute. I will not infringe on them, or modify or change the formulas in any way.
- Comply with all public health and public safety reporting duties.

MY COMMITMENT TO THE GEMSTONES

I will:

- Keep my Diamond and Gemstone Therapy tools safe, cleansed, and well-organized, and store them away from sources of electromagnetic radiation.
- Honor the life-giving energies of my Diamond and Gemstone Therapy tools, and practice being open and receptive to their intelligence.
- Refrain from asking my Diamond and Gemstone Therapy tools to perform any other service than that which their mission requires of them. This includes “programming” them with intentions, messages, or any information whatsoever. Such misapplication of the crystalline structure is deemed a violation of the gemstone itself, and of the Diamond and Gemstone Therapy principles that promote a respect for the sanctity of all life, including that of the members of the mineral kingdom.
- Honor and respect the gemandalas brought forward by Isabelle Morton and act to safeguard them from tampering or alteration of any kind.
